

WHAT IS “BOP” CERTIFICATION?

Bent Ericksen & Associates provides Human Resources and Personnel Management training, along with a certification program, for qualified consultants.

The program provides consultants with multiple benefits, namely:

- Greater awareness and knowledge of employment law compliance —its importance and common pitfalls that affect doctors
- Information about key compliance provisions and laws
- Employment law compliance trends and recent law changes
- A value added service to provide clients
- An additional revenue opportunity
- A source of potential consulting prospects

This certification process is called “BOP Certification” for “Bent-on-Personnel Certification”.

Each certified consultant is required to be part of a re-certification process annually to insure expertise with employment law changes and product updates.
